Due date: Thursday, April 26

Submission method: This is an individual assignment. There is nothing to turn in.

In preparation for class on Thursday, April 26, print out and read the following three articles posted on the course web page under the April 24 class date:

- Simon Ionashku's Development Philosophy
- Poison of Paternalism
- Your Brain on Poverty (The Atlantic)

As time allows, read these two optional articles (they are both excellent):

- Empirical Evidence and the Case for Foreign Aid
- The Psychological Lives of the Poor

Come loaded to the gills ready to fight, claw, and calmly discuss your own personal development philosophy. Make notes as you read – I would like a robust and well-informed discussion following Simon’s presentation.
